THE LOBBY PROBERS.

President Wilson stirred up a hornet's nest when he said Washington was infested by an "insidious lobby," the worst ever known there. From left to right the special committee appointed to investigate the charge is: Overman (chairman), Cummins, Walsh, Nelson, Reed. ### ONE MAN TIED UP MINE

Services of Court and Sheriff Necessary to Get Things Going. Steubenville, O., June 5.—The injunction of the court and the office of Sheriff Hushcroft were necessary to get the O. & P. coal works at Yorkville running. Tony Chesko, an Italian, was keeping the mines idle. He was discharged for a brutal assault on a driver, but he appeared daily at the mine and jumped the cars to be hauled to go to work. Nobody would haul him and no miners would work with him, which caused a shutdown.

A SECOND JAPANESE NOTE IS RECEIVED BY UNCLE SAM

WILL TAKE HAND IN RATE MAKING

STATE MAY REGULATE FIRE INSURANCE RATES

Probers Say Ohio Should Not Recoup Outside Losses.

Columbus, O., June 5.—That the state government will take a hand in fire insurance rate-making and in regulating local fire insurance agents was expected to result from the investigation by the Mooney legislative committee, which, after taking further testimony, today adjourned to meet at the Hotel Haylin, Cincinnati, June 13.

Members of the committee thought the state should go at least as far as to assume the right to fix the basis rate, now 27 cents on $100 in Cleveland, 29 cents in Cincinnati, 31 cents in Columbus. If not to go to the extent of fixing the ultimate rate which the insured pays. They saw no sufficient reason why Ohio policy-holders should recoup insurance companies for losses incurred in other states.

"The basis rate is the milk in the cocoanut," said Representative Thornton Snyder of Cincinnati. It was quite clear to State Insurance Superintendent Moore, who is leading the committee, that the head of his department should have power to suspend or revoke the license of a local agent who was guilty of overvaluation or was careless of defects in buildings and that there should be a professional standard of qualification for agents.

After two days of effort the committee failed to elicit any information tending to show the Ohio inspection bureau, chief factor in making rates, is controlled by the companies which use its service.

WILSON AND BRYAN DISSECT IT

Emphasis of the Latest Note Still Remains On the Broad Racial Question Involved—Dissatisfaction of Japan With the American Reply to the First Note Also Made Clear. Cabinet to Discuss Case.

Washington, June 5.—The latest Japanese note confronting the United States over the California alien land law was revived by the presentation of the second Japanese note in the controversy, Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, handed to Mr. Bryan a long communication from his government, in which a fresh appeal is made to the United States for the nullification of the California statute.

Mr. Bryan discussed it with the president today and it probably will be the chief topic at the cabinet meeting tomorrow.

Though the Japanese government looks to the federal government to render the California statute invalid by some means, and to that end discussed in the note presented the legal aspects of the situation, the emphasis of the Japanese protest still remains on the broad racial question involved. The Japanese ambassador made it clear to Mr. Bryan that he and his government still consider the racial discrimination involved as greatly overshadowing the legal phases of the matter.

The dissatisfaction of Japan with the American reply to Japan's original protest was likewise made clear. The Japanese note informs the United States that the Tokyo government will not condescend to seek reparation in the federal or state courts of California. This was practically the only solution of the question offered Japan in the note of Mr. Bryan, to which the communication just presented by Ambassador Chinda is a

ANOTHER WRINKLE IN TAX LAWS

COX WILL SUPPORT THIS AMENDMENT

Stands For Classification Of Property For Taxation.

Columbus, O., June 5.—A proposed constitutional amendment, providing for classification of property for taxation, has the unqualified endorsement of Governor Cox. To a delegation of Cleveland and Cincinnati business men and others, who are preparing to initiate the amendment to be voted upon in November, the governor said he always had been an advocate of classification of property and that he will support such an amendment if it is submitted.

As a result of this declaration, steps will be taken at once to complete the work of initiating the amendment, begun in Cincinnati several weeks ago at a meeting of commercial and civic organizations.

The proposed amendment will contain no hint as to tax rates. It is said. A classification amendment was proposed in the legislature, but failed of approval. That amendment limited the rate of taxes on real estate to 1 1/2 per cent, as provided in the Smith tax law.

The amendment which will be proposed by initiative this fall will follow closely the one submitted in 1908, but which failed of ratification because it did not receive a majority of all votes cast at the election. The 1908 amendment provided for the exemption from taxation of public bonds. Similar exemption is provided in an amendment to be submitted this fall.

A GENERAL STRIKE MAY BE AT HAND

INVOLVES MANY UNIONS

General Strike Order Issued Against United Fruit Company.

New Orleans, June 5.—A general strike has been declared against the United Fruit company in all Atlantic ports by the marine firemen and sailors' union, according to local union officials, because of the wage trouble between the firemen and sailors and the company. The strike order includes sailors, firemen, water tenders, coal passers and practically every union man on the ships with the exception of the engineers.

LOST THEIR NERVE

London, June 5.—Sir George Paish, editor of the Statist and an eminent authority on financial matters, speaking of the business situation said that one of the great contributory causes of the present conditions was the fact that the American investing public had lost its nerve.

Cleveland, O., June 5.—Dragged from his rowboat by a big fish, Hugh E. Walker, 17, became entangled in his fishing line and was drowned several hundred yards from shore in Lake Erie. His body was recovered some time later, with the line wound round his legs. The fish got away.

LIGHT ON SUGAR TARIFF FIGHT

Both Sides Maintain Organized Bureaus At Capital.

SENATOR RANDELL ON STAND

Discusses Freely the Activity of Louisiana Sugar Cane Growers Against the So-Called Sugar Trust—Woolgrowers' Association Accused by Nevada Senator of Operating a Lobby—The Day's Testimony.

Washington, June 5.—Ramifications of the sugar tariff fight now being conducted outside the halls of congress engaged the attention of the senate lobby investigating committee.

With Senator Randell of Louisiana as the chief witness, members of the investigating committee pried into every phase of the fight between the free sugar and anti-free sugar forces, and established the fact that general offices at maintained by both factions, and that a systematic and organized fight has been carried on for and against the free sugar provision endorsed by President Wilson.

Senator Randell discussed freely the organized activity of the Louisiana sugar cane growers; but he believed little money had been spent, as compared with the amount spent by Claus Spreckles, the Federal Sugar Refining company and Frank C. Lowry of New York, said to be an employee of that company, in the attempt to create a public sentiment in favor of free sugar.

Some light was thrown on the activity of Hawaiian and Porto Rican growers, who also oppose free sugar, by the senator. He denied there had been any concerted action amongst the three forces, and said the Louisiana growers had devoted their efforts to distributing literature and presenting arguments to show that free sugar meant destruction to their business and no benefit to the consumer.

Accuses Woolgrowers.

Senator Pitman of Nevada, a Democrat, readily agreed with President Wilson's charge that a lobby has been operating in Washington. He named the National Woolgrowers' association as conducting a campaign, such as President Wilson had condemned, and he claimed the association had attempted to intimidate senators.

Senator Thompson of Kansas, another Democrat, testified that the activities of the sugar refinery people were of a pernicious character, but Senator Thompson's testimony hit the men who are working for, not against, the passage of the Underwood bill.

The most interesting testimony brought out at the hearing had to do with the personal property of senators which is affected by the tariff bill. Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin, who has the reputation of being the wealthiest man in the upper house of congress, reviewed a long list of his personal holdings, forgetting an iron and a copper mine or a railroad now and then, but eventually bringing everything in, down even to Pauline Wayne, the cow that used to supply the milk for President Taft and his family and which is now on Senator Stephenson's farm in Wisconsin.

JOINT WORM THREATENS OUR PROMISING WHEAT CROP

Ravages Already Found In Numerous Fields

Wind Storm Breaks Off Many Straws and Discloses Presence of the Pest. Farmers Owning Badly Affected Fields are of Opinion That Yield Will Drop to Half a Crop or Less. Harvest Is Only a Few Weeks Off.

Within the past few days, in fact since the wind storm of last Sunday, farmers in various parts of the county have been reporting the presence of the joint worm in unusual numbers in the wheat fields, and several have given it as their opinion that the yield may be cut down from one-half to two-thirds of what has been confidently expected up until this time.

In a great many fields the wind storm flattened considerable wheat, and farmers upon making examination have reported that the straws were largely broken off and that at the point of breaking the work of the worms is in evidence. Up until this time the prospect for a bumper crop of wheat in this county never was better and although the joint worm was busily at work preceding the storm of Sunday, very few seem to have suspected the truth until the wind broke off the straws. Even now it is claimed by elevator men that in places where there was no wind, many farmers are showing little interest and have not even examined their wheat. It seems to be the general impression that affected wheat straws will be found in practically every wheat field in the county. Some grain men, however, feel that inasmuch as there is an exceptionally heavy stand of wheat the presence of even considerable numbers of joint worms will not cut down the average as much as some anticipate. One buyer states that during a certain year not long ago the joint worm was unusually numerous and cut down numerous straws, yet the yield ranged from 18 to 37 bushels per acre. The same man states that the result may be vastly different this year, however, for the reason that the wheat is earlier than usual and even now out in head.

A certain well known farmer living a few miles east of this city declares that he had a very fine prospect for wheat up until a few days ago and was expecting a yield of at least 30 bushels to the acre, yet he has discovered the worm pest working so vigorously up on his crop that he has been forced to reduce his estimate to about 10 bushels of wheat per acre.

Numerous farmers who have given the matter their attention have placed the yield at about half a crop. Some of those entertaining this view are among the heaviest farmers in the county.

DRINKING ON TRAIN CAUSE OF ARREST

Wednesday evening Chief of Police E. M. McCoy received a telegram requesting him to meet the eight o'clock D. T. and I. train on its arrival in this city.

When the train pulled into the depot the chief was informed by the conductor that William Brown and Albert Brown, passengers, had been drinking while on the train. The two offenders were taken into custody and locked up.

This morning Mayor Smith assessed a fine of ten dollars and costs.

REVIEW BOARD BEGINS WORK

Organization Effected and New Members Appointed the Preparatory Work Is Well Under Way.

The City Board of Review is again in session and rapidly arranging the preliminary work and preparatory to beginning the real work of looking over the returns made to the assessors and, if possible, bring more personal property on to the tax duplicate.

Mr. J. A. Edge whose term had expired, has again been appointed a member of the Board. Mr. Charles Coffey is president; Mr. J. C. Dunn, vice president and J. A. Edge, pro tem secretary of the board.

The present Board of Review will continue in power until the provisions of the new tax law become operative, which will not, in all probability, be until after the fall election, if at all.

The opponents of the new law are organizing for a referendum election campaign and it is possible may defeat the new law by a vote of the people.

In that event the present law, providing for Boards of Review will continue in force. In the event the voters sustain the law at the fall election the present Board of Review will pass out of existence to be replaced by a Deputy State Tax Commissioner for the county and his corps of assistants including a Board of Complaint.

SONS OF VETERANS SET A NEW PAGE

The regular meeting of Col. B. H. Millikan Camp, Sons of Veterans, was held in Memorial hall Wednesday evening, and the large number of enthusiastic members present were unanimous in deciding to continue the good work started on Decoration Day.

The members of the Camp secured conveyances on that day and with the assistance of members of Company M of the National Guards, visited six of the country cemeteries and decorated the graves of all the veterans buried there.

This rite had been neglected for several years and the action of the Camp has caused a stirring of sentiment which will not allow these graves to be neglected in the future.

The services of the members of the Camp as a whole have been tendered to the G. A. R. committee for use during Encampment week and the committee has accepted.

Preparations have been made for the Camp to appear in the parade, costumed in a distinctive manner and it is the desire of the Camp officers to have at least 150 members in line on that day. Active efforts are being made to get in touch with every eligible man in the county and the whirlwind campaign will result in a large and active membership.

This is the last chance to get in touch with the readers of the papers and we want to make an earnest appeal to every man in the county who is eligible to join us before the Encampment.

This is not only for the memory of your ancestors but is also a good opportunity to show your loyalty and affection to old Fayette county by appearing in the parade.

You can belong at a very small expense and you owe it to yourself to help us boost the Encampment.

CITY TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.

The first examination of teachers for the city schools of W. C. H. O., will be held in the old High school building on June 7, 1913.

IN SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCoy sent out cards Wednesday announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy, to Mr. Marion Sollars, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Sollars.

The young couple were married Tuesday night by Rev. Moore, at the Presbyterian parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. McCoy accompanied their daughter for the ceremony. The bride has been one of the most popular of the Bloomingburg girls and a number of attractive affairs were given for her before the wedding. She looked very pretty in her going away gown of grey, with white panama hat.

The bridegroom is a well known young farmer and both young people have the best wishes of more than the allotted share of friends. They drove at once to the Sollars' home in the Glendon neighborhood, which has just been re-furnished for their occupancy. Mr. B. L. Sollars has turned the home place over to his son and will make his future home in Washington.

Mrs. Herman Price gave a pretty children's birthday party Wednesday afternoon for her seven-year-old daughter, Genevieve. It was a "Bo-Peep" party, quite new and an innovation in the very small set, and the children were wild with delight over it.

Tiny white sheep were hidden in the yard and each child was given a horn and sent hunting for a sheep. When found the horn was blown and the girl or boy finder kept both sheep and horn as souvenirs. Then they were blindfolded and pinned on the sheep's tail. Frank Hamilton winning the prize, the one black sheep of the flock.

MOTHER AND SON HURLED INTO BARBED WIRE FENCE

HORSE TAKES FRIGHT

AT PASSING AUTOMOBILE

Mrs. Maggie Finney and Young Son Terribly Injured Last Night Near New Holland.

An accident serious in its consequences and frightful in its possibilities, occurred Wednesday evening about eight o'clock two miles north of New Holland.

For some cause not yet made entirely clear, the horse driven by Mrs. Maggie Finney, who resides on the Waterloo pike, took fright at or was struck by an automobile driven by Wiley Campbell, son of C. G. Campbell, of Atlanta.

Young Campbell and Miss Florence Thomas, daughter of Mr. L. S. Thomas, of New Holland, were proceeding north from New Holland in the machine, a large touring car, when Mrs. Finney also driving north along the same road, was caught up with Mrs. Finney was driving with her 12-year-old son.

When the machine ran along side, before either the occupants of the auto or those of the buggy realized it, the horse and buggy were precipitated violently off the side of the road. Mrs. Finney and her little boy were thrown with terrific force into a barbed wire fence. The horse kicked itself free of the greater part of the buggy and ran away in the direction of the Finney home. Mr. Campbell stopped his machine almost instantly, jumped out and ran to render assistance to Mrs. Finney and the little boy, who were lying in a stunned condition, bleeding profusely from cuts and bruises, entangled with the wreck of the buggy in the barbed wire fence.

Neighbors were soon on the scene and succeeded in rescuing the mother and child.

Mr. Campbell and Mr. Otis Yeoman who lived nearby hurried the injured woman and boy to the latter's house and summoned Dr. L. M. McFadden, of this city, by phone. In a little over an hour, Dr. McFadden arrived at the Yeoman home and found the victim of the accident resting as well as could be expected and Mr. Yeoman and his wife, Mr. Campbell and Miss Thomas rendering every assistance possible.

Mrs. Finney sustained a deep cut across the forehead, several smaller ones on the face and another deep one under the chin. Her left arm was badly cut between the elbow and wrist and the right wrist was sprained and the arm broken in two places. She was also badly bruised about the body.

The little boy, although cut badly by the barbed wire, about the face, head and arms, had escaped more fortunately than his mother.

Dr. McFadden attended first to the injuries of Mrs. Finney, setting the broken bones in her arm and sewing up the deep gashes cut in her face. The injuries of the little boy were then attended to. Mr. Campbell and Miss Thomas remained with the injured mother and boy until after Dr. McFadden left.

Both parties to the accident are reticent about the matter. Mrs. Finney is not inclined to censure Mr. Campbell for the occurrence which both now seem to treat as an unavoidable accident.

The buggy in which Mrs. Finney and the boy were riding is a total wreck and up to a late hour last night the horse which ran away, had not been caught.

Dr. McFadden thinks that Mrs. Finney's injuries are not such as to cause alarm for the outcome, although entailing severe suffering on her.

The escape from more serious results is in view of the nature of the accident really remarkable.

THOMAS CARSON KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

Elza Grant, Colored Chauffeur, Arrested and Held to Answer. Carson Has Right Arm Broken for the Second Time Within a Few Weeks. Difference in Opinion as to Speed of Offending Car.

The police were called to investigate an automobile accident which occurred at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the intersection of Court and Fayette streets, resulting in the breaking of the right arm of Thomas Carson.

Mr. Carson, who is a little deaf, was in the act of crossing the street from the fruit store to the Savings bank and carrying his right arm in a sling, it having been broken some weeks ago. When in the middle of the street an auto driven by Elza Grant, colored, approached from N. Fayette street and turned west on Court street, while going at a pretty fair rate of speed. The driver saw Mr. Carson walking into danger and undertook to prevent striking him by stopping his engine and applying the emergency brake, but the momentum was too great, and the car continued on its way with enough force to strike Mr. Carson and throw him off his feet. Fortunately the car did not run over the victim, but threw him sideways, alighting on his shoulder and broken arm. So far as is now known his injuries consist of a re-breaking of the arm and a few painful but not serious cuts and bruises.

A crowd collected quickly and Carson was gathered up, assisted into the automobile and whisked away to the Hodson hospital, where his injuries were dressed and the broken bones reset.

There is a difference of opinion as to the speed of the auto driven by Grant. A painter at work on the Savings bank building, stated that the car was making 15 miles an hour and going so fast that his attention was attracted, causing him to turn and watch its progress.

Others who witnessed the approach of the car say that its speed was not over 5 miles an hour. Grant is employed by the Ortman garage and the machine he was driving belongs to that concern.

Grant was placed under arrest within a few moments after the party reached the hospital and will be given a hearing soon. Chief McCoy already had his eye on Grant for what he considered a little too fast driving earlier in the day.

Undertaking to make the turn from Fayette to Court street under the new traffic ordinance may have been partially responsible for the accident, as Mr. Carson informed Chief McCoy that he became confused and could not move, thinking when the machine continued far into Court street that the driver intended to continue down Fayette. He was unprepared for the sudden turn into west Court.

They Are Here Again

This week we have with us the graduates. The members of the class of 1913 are no exception to members of graduating classes which have gone before, and all which will come after, in feeling a pardonable pride in their achievements and a sturdy confidence in their ability to take care of themselves in the future, no matter what that future may hold for them.

The course in the local high school is a difficult one and all boys and girls who go through the four-year course with passing grades, and better, entitled, at the completion of the course, to a diploma certifying to mental and moral fitness, are fully justified in feeling on excellent terms with themselves.

The fond parents of the happy graduates are also entitled to be happy with themselves because they are the parents of such children.

The community is entitled to feel a pride in that it can maintain a system of common schools the diploma of which is recognized in the best colleges as a guarantee of fitness.

No wonder the lad and the lass feel that they have accomplished something worth while—they have—and they know what an effort that success has cost them.

It is the first great achievement of optimistic youth—the first mile stone in life's long pathway. It is fully worth while that youth should pause long enough to mark the location of that mile stone with appropriate ceremonies.

It means the end of many happy associations that have endured since the days of pinafores.

It does mean launching out into the real swift current of the world and the repetition of that fact serves but to prove that even forgetful exuberant youth is not unmindful in the height of the festival occasion, that there is a serious strata which lies just beneath.

The older people of the community join with the young folks in their jollifications and in these share with them their bright confidence in the earnest hope that their lives may be a succession of just such triumphs and that the coming years will fully justify their rosy views of what is in store for them.

May fate apportion to each one of these worthy young men and young women (for they are children no longer) the full cup of real happiness is the earnest wish of everybody.

We have heard a great deal about and heard a deal from the graduates as each crop comes along, but it is always good to hear. It is the story of fitness and worth—a tale never told too often and one we never get too old to enjoy.

Poetry For Today

THE MAN UNDERNEATH.

To find a man beneath one's bed,
Most likely bent on crime,
Will freeze the marrow in one's bones
Worse than the Klondike clime.

In traveling many miles afar
I this experience had,
And wakened suddenly to hear
A man beneath my bed.

What could I do? I must defend
My life by action bold,
My every hair stood on its end,
My very blood ran cold.

Useless it seemed to rail and hoot.
For all that I was worth,
And it were criminal to shoot—
He'd bought the lower berth.

Free National Political

Conventions

From

Mob Control

and

Commercialism

By ANDREW D. WHITE.

Ex-President of Cornell University

THE only way to secure truly representative government is for the different states to elect representatives to a NATIONAL DELIBERATIVE BODY.

The objection to the presidential conventions as they are now carried on is that they are NOT TRULY DELIBERATIVE BODIES.

Instead of a convention of delegates seriously bent on the nomination of the strongest man in their party the modern convention is a commercialized "wigwam" affair, DOMINATED BY ORATORS OF THE FOGHORN TYPE, who play almost entirely to the mob of spectators.

The men who really have serious questions to discuss are drowned out by the cries of partisan onlookers and opposing delegates.

THE SYSTEM IS BECOMING MERCANTILE, EACH CITY WANTING IT BECAUSE OF THE LARGE CROWDS ATTRACTED BY THE CONVENTION. THE CONVENTION SYSTEM, HOWEVER, HAS PRODUCED GOOD RESULTS IN SPITE OF ITS EVILS, AND, AS A WHOLE, IS A GOOD ONE.

SETS THE BRAKES ON JOB HUNTERS

Applicants for 4000 jobs under Governor Cox, county tax collectors and deputies will have to await the verdict of the people of the state on the Warnes taxation law, which is to be submitted to a referendum. This means, of course, that candidates for ward assessors will be elected this fall in anticipation of the possible repudiation of the law by the people.

It was presumed when the initiative and referendum provision was written into the new state constitution, that it would be a weapon of offense and defense that would be frequently used by the people, but Ohio's experience for the first time is to be the opposite. It seems that there are several objectionable features in the Warnes bill, and those opposed to them propose to test the matter out with the people.

Spring Lamb Chops for Breakfast

are always appetizing and when they come from Barchet's Market they are particularly tender and delicious, for a perfect lamb chop when properly cooked has a delicious flavor and taste to it that is not excelled by any other meat. But no matter how well cooked they are, chops like any other meat must be up in quality or it will be insipid, which is equally true of any fresh meat. Therefore you must have a reliable butcher to give your cook a chance.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' ORPHANS' HOME BOYS

THE above is a picture of the boys of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, Xenia, Ohio, in the foreground, with Civil war veterans in the rear. This picture was taken in front of the courthouse at the G. A. R. Encampment, Washington, C. H., Ohio, eight years ago. The boys from the home, along with many other visiting bodies and organizations, will attend the Ohio State G. A. R. Encampment at Washington, C. H., Ohio, again this year, where it will be held this month, June 16 to 20 inclusive. Addresses will be delivered by some of the nation's greatest orators, and bewildering decorations by the city, county and citizens will present a gorgeous spectacle, along with the civic, military and flag parades. It is said that more eminent men and women prominently connected with the various G. A. R. auxiliaries will attend this encampment than ever before. The four railroads entering Washington, C. H., are planning to handle the crowds and the accommodations for entertaining the people after they get there will be ample, and the rates moderate.

LOOK FAVORABLY ON AUTO TRUCK

Service Director McLellan and the Service committee of Council, Durant Chapman and Cox and the councilmen who went to Winton Place last Tuesday, seem, at least a majority of them, to be very favorably impressed with the demonstration of the automobile fire fighting apparatus.

The officials visited the factory of The Ahrens-Fox Fire Fighting Apparatus Company and were shown all about the big trucks.

An appliance such as would be required in this city, it is estimated, would cost approximately $10,000, fully equipped, which includes 1500 feet of hose.

The big truck fully equipped and on its way to fire, weighs about seven tons.

Some of the officials who visited Winton Place believe the installing of the truck would mean a saving of $60 a month, which sum is now necessary to feed and care for the horses.

Another feature which appealed to the officials is the rapidity with which the fighters can get under way. In less than one-half minute it is estimated after the driver takes his seat the machine will be on the way to the fire.

There is no question, one official put it, but that the big truck with its 125 horse power engine can go anywhere a team can pull a hose wagon.

The rough streets are no menace they say as the auto is so strongly built that no jar scarcely will break it.

SCATTER ASHES OF POET.

Destined For Flames, Wind Claims Remains of Joaquin Miller.

Oakland, Cal., June 5.—The ashes of Joaquin Miller, the poet of the Sierras, were scattered among the flames of a funeral pyre built by the poet's own hands. The ceremony was held at the Miller home, the Heights, in the picturesque hills near Oakland. The Bohemian club of San Francisco, in charge of the rites, which were witnessed by more than 500 persons, including the poet's widow and daughter, Juana, and many old time friends.

The services, short and impressive, were in accordance with Miller's dying wishes. At their conclusion Colonel John P. Irish of Oakland mounted the steps of the pyre.

"This," said Colonel Irish, "is not an occasion for mourning, but for rejoicing. We are here not to mourn the death of Joaquin Miller, but to rejoice that through his genius he still lives."

Colonel Irish then applied a torch to the oil-soaked logs on the pyre. As the flames shot up he took the copper urn containing the poet's ashes and gave them to the fire. Instantly a jealous wind whipped the ashes from the flames and bore them away.

City Charter For Washington?

If The People of This City Desire to Avail Themselves of a New Form of Government, Here Is an Important Feature in One of the New Methods of City Government.

The Short Ballot

The primary purpose of the short ballot movement is to make voting a simpler matter than it is at present. It is based upon the belief that the more offices there are to be filled at any election, the more difficult it is for each individual voter to pick out the right man for each office.

The short ballot therefore contemplates the reduction of the number of elective offices to a minimum, and by that method to make it possible for each voter to pick out the candidates who appear to him to be the right men for each particular office. The results which the advocates of the plan expect to see realized are more uniformly good administrations.

The one fault with the municipal government of the past, the advocates of the movement claim, is that there have been so many offices to fill by election, that some undesirable candidate was frequently elected to office, and placed in a position where he could hinder, oppose, and nullify the work of the officials who attempted to render the best service in their power.

In short ballot cities, the few elective officials fill other offices by appointment. In cities governed upon the federal plan, in which the mayor and the members of council are the only officials elected, the mayor makes the appointments, and in cities governed upon the commission and city manager plans, in which the commissioners are the only elective officials, the commission makes the appointments.

The short ballot idea is not a new one. The men who framed the Constitution of the United States were short ballot men, and they wrote their ideas upon the subject into the constitution. The national government is the most conspicuous example of a short ballot government known. The only elective officials in it are the president, vice president and the members of the two houses of congress. All the other officials are appointed. Hence, in national elections, the contest is waged over the election of a few candidates.

With the short ballot, in municipal affairs, goes the idea of non-partisan primaries and elections. Non-partisan primaries and elections will be discussed tomorrow evening.
